

Aqua Cat Cruise 2009

Ocean Sports is offering a wonderful opportunity to dive the Bahamas in luxury aboard the Aqua Cat Cruise boat from August 15-22, 2009. Aqua Cat Cruises offers a leisurely live-aboard scuba diving and snorkeling adventure in the Bahamas aboard the 102' catamaran Aqua Cat. This is the ultimate escape aboard your own private luxury yacht.

No crowds, no set itineraries, nothing to do but sit back, relax and choose from an incredible variety of activities including scuba diving, snorkeling, kayaking, fishing, sunbathing, and island exploring. If you aren't a certified scuba diver, the Aqua Cat offers full certification scuba diving courses. Photographers will find underwater life in the Exumas some of the most prolific and varied of any coral reef in the world. Aqua Cat enables you to scuba dive remote walls, wrecks, and coral reefs with sharks.

Let Aqua Cat be your floating resort with captain and crew at your service. With bar, meals, scuba diving and water sports included in the price, Aqua Cat is comparably priced to a Caribbean luxury cruise or resort vacation, only the service is much more personal. Nitrox and E-6 processing are available.

Aqua Cat Dive Sites

<http://www.aquacatcruises.com/divesites.html>

1. Nassau

Triple Wrecks - A group of 3 wrecks in 90' of water.

James Bond Wreck - The 92' wreck Tears of Allah from the movie Never Say Never with the planstructure of the Vulcan Bomber from the movie Thunderball lying nearby.

Lampton Wall - The wall starts at 45' with a sloping reef at the top.

Lost Blue Hole - The rim of this large blue hole lies in 30' of water surrounded by coral heads, stingrays, and many schools of fish. There is a lobster-filled crevice at 80'.

2. Exumas

Amberjack Reef - A 45' patch reef that is the sight of our Exumas shark dive. Normally 5-10 Caribbean Reef Sharks, 1-2 Nurse Sharks, and several large Black Grouper show up to be fed.

Austin Smith Wreck - A 90' Bahamian Defense Force Cutter that sank in 1995 while being towed to San Salvador (to be sunk there as a dive site). This intact wreck lies in 60' of water.

Deadhead Wall - A yellow school bus lies here, similar to the one used by the rock group Grateful Dead. You frequently see Eagle Rays cruising along the wall.

Dog Rocks - This reef starts at 35' and slopes off to 50' before dropping straight off into the Exuma Sound. This is one of the best dives in the Bahamas.

Pillar Wall - One of many excellent wall dives. There are many caves and crevices and a large colony of Yellowhead Jawfish in the rubble inside the reef.

Wax Cut Drift - You will fly over this 30' reef in excess of 2 knots. You will see rays, sharks, eels and numerous fish as you drift with the current in the cut between the islands.

Whale Shark Reef - This wall is named for the Whale Sharks that frequent this area in the winter.

3. Southwest Eleuthera

Cave Rock - A large coral mound in 50' of water surrounded by several smaller coral heads. There are several caves where you can swim from one side to the other.

Jake's Hole - A blue hole starting at 20'. It lies in the middle of a large reef.

Monolith - Large mounds of coral rise out of the sand at the edge of the wall. They start at 55' and rise to 100'. A colony of Garden eels is located in the sand next to the mounds.
